Swiss Resource Centre and
Consultancies for Development

Publications 2008

Skat is an independent Swiss resource centre and consulting company specialising in the sustainable development in developing countries and countries in transition.

Skat's thematic areas of expertise are:

- water supply, environmental sanitation and solid waste management
- sustainable construction, architecture, settlements, development and planning
- mobility and transport
- environmental management

Skat combines its longstanding sector know-how with applied methodical and conceptual competence:

- knowledge management and networking
- institutional development
- community development through social mobilisation
- job and income creation, business development, and supply chains

Skat documents its experiences and lessons learnt and shares them with the development community. The promotion of knowledge and experience exchange is done through the Skat Foundation, a not-for-profit organisation.

The Skat Foundation produces and provides a wide range of useful reports, manuals and other publications, often in cooperation with other institutions or on behalf of government agencies or donors. The publications are available for download at no cost on the Skat website or in hardcopy.
