Growing Food

Seeds of Solidarity Farm emphasizes soil building and worm production through permanent no-till raised beds in which high quality vegetables, herbs and flowers are grown intensively for restaurants and food co-ops. Over 14 varieties of garlic are cultivated and sold at the North Quabbin Garlic and Arts Festival. We use solar greenhouses to extend the growing season, solar electricity to power our farm and buildings, and biodiesel (vegetable based fuel) to fuel our farm truck.

If you are a local restaurant or market interested in purchasing from Seeds of Solidarity Farm please contact Ricky at (978) 544-7564.
