All parts should go together without forcing. Therefore, if you can't get them back together again, there must be a reason. By all means, do not use a hammer.

IBM